

Alberta International Development Office Speaker Series

Navigating Risk in International Business Transactions

Tuesday, December 5, 2017

Traditional methods of assessing risk can be ineffective and may create additional risk for your company. This speaker series will provide participants with an understanding of the pitfalls of applying traditional risk assessment methods; addressing corruption risks in foreign ventures, and finding alternative risk mitigation options; and evaluating and managing reputational risks.

Join the Alberta International Development Office and Simon Fraser University in this interactive session for an informative discussion and a chance to engage with and receive feedback from leaders experienced in corporate governance, business and legal risk assessments, risk mitigation and ethical business practices.
